New York Aviation Management Association Statement Regarding Proposed Expansion of Ride-Sharing Companies

As the leading advocate for a strong aviation industry in New York, NYAMA recognizes that airports and the businesses and communities that rely on them must provide their customers with safe, secure and efficient facilities that provide the highest levels of service.

Recent reports of a proposal to expand operations of ride-sharing companies in the state could create considerable benefits for the tens of millions of passengers who use our airports every year. As legislators further explore this issue, we urge them to pay particular attention to airports, which will be key players in any expansion of ride-sharing companies in New York.

The economic strength and vitality of airports relies heavily on the ground transportation sector, and airports must have a voice to ensure this remains so.
